

arius council of nicea

AI generated article from Bing

---

biblical basis - What Scriptures did Arius use to support teaching that ...

Arius took this to mean that, if Jesus was 'begotten', he must have had a beginning. This would go on to become one of the chief arguments used by Arius and those in agreement with him. "Alone everlasting" — Possibly Isaiah 40.28 (Isaiah 40-55 has numerous examples of monotheistic proclamations), or perhaps Romans 16.26.

What are the similarities and differences between Origen and Arius ...

22) Origen vs Arius "It is just as plain that Arius and Origen are fundamentally at odds over the eternity of the Son and the quasi-necessity of the Son to the Father" (Williams, 143). My opinion I do not think that the phrase "there was a time when he did not exist" adequately explains what Arius taught.

history - Arius' death was it miraculous or was he poisoned

...

Arius' death was it miraculous or was he poisoned? Arius died in 336, at Constantinople of some gory intestinal disorder. Some believe that his death corresponded to the prayers of the Patriarch of

trinity - From whom or what did Arius learn his theology ...

Where did Arius learn his theology? Did he rely on specific theologians that wrote before him? Origen? Clement of Alexandria? Lucian of Antioch? Were his ideas based on the Bible or on Greek philos...

trinity - What was the real issue between Arius and Bishop Alexander at ...

The first Council of Nicea was in 325, producing The Nicene Creed. At it, Eusebius of Nicomedia spoke for Arius, as Arius was not a bishop. Eusebius was. The issues fundamental to the debate about whether Christ was a creature (created) angel, or demi-god, whether to pray to him etc. had arisen even before Arius was born.

trinity - Why is the controversy of the fourth century called the ...

It implies that Arius' theology continued during that entire period of the Arian Controversy, namely:

From AD 318, when Arius publicly criticized his bishop Alexander for teaching 'erroneous' doctrines about the nature of Christ, Until AD 380, when the emperor outlawed all 'Arian denominations' through the Edict of Thessalonica.

Did Arius teach that time existed before the Son existed?

3 Arius wrote that the Son was "begotten timelessly by the Father ... before aeons ... begotten timelessly before everything" (Letter to Alexander - See RPC Hanson, The Search, page 8). But Alexander of Alexandria stated that Arius also wrote that "there was a time when he did not exist" (RPC Hanson, The Search, page 16).

What was the stance of Arius on John 1:1? - Christianity Stack Exchange

Introduction Arius believed that Jesus was a creature, a created god. What did he write about John 1:1? Or if there is no such extant manuscript, how would he interpreted "the Word was God" in J...

Did Athanasius and the Nicene Fathers draw the conclusion that Arius ...

Did Athanasius and the Nicene Fathers, in their condemnation of Arius, draw the conclusion that the personage which Arius is actually describing (and whom he, presumably, worshipped) is really the ...

Did St. Nicholas punch Arius at the Council of Nicaea?

Did St Nicholas really slap Arius? Well if the truth be known, St Nicholas never slapped Arius. There are some problems with the story, though. In the first place, it's not true. The story has no historical value. As the old Catholic Encyclopedia notes, it's doubtful St. Nicholas was even at Nicea, since the historical lists of bishops that attended that council don't include him ...