ford fault codes the full list - Ford Owners Club

19 minutes ago, TomsFocus said: Hmm, ok, I don't know enough about the Viper setup unfortunately. It does sound like it's still using the original fobs for the cars immobiliser signal and that the viper is just another 'layer' of protection on top. So I would suggest that this is purely a fault w...

ford fault codes the full list - Ford Owners Club

Greetings. I have 3 fault codes on my 2008 1.8 petrol focus which I think are just stored after I had a battery problem. 9318 is mentioned previously but 9106 and A103 are what? I'd be interested to know especially if I'm wrong about them just being stored. Talking of which would the capacitor discharge system work in erasing them? Oh!

Multiple ECU fault codes - Ford Owners Club

fault codes can stay in the system for a very long time and don't have dates on. on any car that has fault codes you really need to clear all codes and see what comes back after a drive. Otherwise you might be misled by old fault codes which were temporary hiccups long ago and are no longer an issue.
