Why is the spelling of "pronounce" and "pronunciation" different?

As for why the word pronounce has an O between the two N's and pronunciation does not, it is unclear, but both words derive from French, pronunciation from prononciation and pronounce from prononcier. There is probably some variation in the way the different word stress affected how the words were spelled after being borrowed into English.

pronunciation - How is "æ" supposed to be pronounced? - English ...

Æ is pronounced very close to e in echo, and when I read the English word encyclopædia I naturally pronounce it as described, confusing an American listener. ø or oe is pronounced as the German ö, also as a single sound.

pronunciation - How are "i.e." and "e.g." pronounced? - English ...

How are i.e. and e.g. pronounced? When I was in college, one of my philosophy professors instructed us to use translated English for abbreviated or initialized latinisms when reading a text aloud. I would agree that in most cases you should speak the translated English rather than speaking the letters of the initialization. i.e. is used for clarification and should be spoken "that is". While ...

Reason for different pronunciations of "lieutenant"

It's simply an attempt for English speakers to pronounce French phonemes, I don't believe there's an additional reason. The word appeared in English as "lieutenant", and an alternative "leftenant" was made to stick to the pronunciation. The pronunciation being very difficult for English speaker. The "lefttenant" doesn't exist in French, at least, I didn't find it, I will search further.
