

secretive plotter orv

AI generated article from Bing

---

SECRETIVE Definition & Meaning - Merriam-Webster

The meaning of SECRETIVE is disposed to secrecy : not open or outgoing in speech, activity, or purposes. How to use secretive in a sentence. Synonym Discussion of Secretive.

SECRETIVE | English meaning - Cambridge Dictionary

SECRETIVE definition: 1. People who are secretive hide their feelings, thoughts, intentions, and actions from other.... Learn more.

Secretive - definition of secretive by The Free Dictionary

Define secretive. secretive synonyms, secretive pronunciation, secretive translation, English dictionary definition of secretive. adj. 1. a. Having a tendency to keep one's thoughts or activities unknown to others: a secretive neighbor; secretive spy agencies. b. Characterized by or...

Secretive - Definition, Meaning & Synonyms | Vocabulary.com

When a person is secretive, they seem mysterious because they don't reveal much about themselves. You can also be secretive about something specific — you might be suspicious of your sister's secretive behavior until you realize she's been planning a surprise party for your birthday.

secretive adjective - Definition, pictures, pronunciation and ...

Definition of secretive adjective from the Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary. secretive (about something) tending or liking to hide your thoughts, feelings, actions, etc. from other people. He's very secretive about his work. The child became secretive and withdrawn.

secretive - WordReference.com Dictionary of English

se•cre•tive•ly, adv. se•cre•tive•ness, n. [uncountable] WordReference Random House Unabridged Dictionary of American English © 2026 se•cre•tive1 (sē' kri tiv, si krē' -), adj. having or showing a disposition to secrecy; reticent: He seems secretive about his new job.

secretive - Wiktionary, the free dictionary

Adjective secretive (comparative more secretive, superlative most secretive) Having an inclination to secrecy. She's a secretive girl, not giving away much about her life. Why are you acting all secretive? What are you hiding?