

women dont owe you pretty

AI generated article from Bing

Gender equality and women's rights | OHCHR

Our work Promoting women's human rights and achieving gender equality are core commitments of the UN Human Rights Office. We promote women and girls' equal enjoyment of all human rights, including freedom from violence, sexual and reproductive rights, access to justice, socio-economic equality, and participation in decision-making.

Women's health

The health of women and girls is of particular concern because, in many societies, they are disadvantaged by discrimination rooted in sociocultural factors. For example, women and girls face increased vulnerability to HIV/AIDS.

Building a healthier world by women and for women is key to achieving ...

To achieve this, health systems must prioritize women's and girls' health needs and their full participation in the workforce. By creating opportunities for women to participate equally at every level, including in decision making, we can transform health systems, bridge gender gaps, and build a healthier, more equitable world.

Women's Rights - Human Rights Watch

We envision a world in which systems of oppression and harm are dismantled, and women and girls regardless of race, ethnic origin, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, socioeconomic ...

Women's incarceration rooted in gender inequality and violence

A UN Human Rights report highlights widespread gender-based violence, poor health provisions, and discriminatory legal systems disproportionately affecting women and girls in criminal justice detention worldwide.

International Women's Day 2025 | OHCHR

International Women's Day 2025 "Her Rights, Our Future, Right Now" is the theme chosen by UN Human Rights to celebrate International Women's Day 2025. Progress on women's rights and gender equality, driven by powerful feminist movements and women's rights activists across the globe, have profoundly transformed our societies, making them fairer, more resilient and peaceful. Gender ...

Lifetime toll: 840 million women faced partner or sexual violence

Violence against women remains one of the world's most persistent and under-addressed human rights crises, with very little progress in two decades, according to a landmark report released today by the World Health Organization (WHO) and UN partners.

World Report 2025: Afghanistan | Human Rights Watch

The situation in Afghanistan worsened in 2024 as the Taliban authorities intensified their crackdown on human rights, particularly against women and girls. Afghanistan remained the only country ...

OHCHR and women's human rights and gender equality

Moreover, many women, including transgender, gender diverse and intersex women, face compounded forms of discrimination—due to factors such as their age, race, ethnicity, disability, or socio-economic status—in addition to gender-based discrimination.

The State of Women's Rights - Human Rights Watch

Today, for International Women's Day, Human Rights Watch's Women's Rights Division Director Macarena Sáez speaks with Amy Braunschweiger about the best and worst of women's rights last ...