

(Portugal)?

Explanation: In the formal translation, "Qual é o seu nome?" is used, which is a polite and respectful way to ask someone's name. The use of "seu" (your) instead of "teu" (your) also adds formality to the sentence. In the casual translation, "Como te chamas?" is used, which is a more informal and friendly way to ask someone's name. The use of "te" (you) instead of "seu" (your) makes the ...

ano ang WHATS UP? sa tagalog at...pano mo ito sasagutin ... - HiNative @Giom43489218 There is no literal translation, but we have different expressions to ask "What's up" Example: Friend: Uy! Kumusta? (Hey! How are you?/How's it going?) You can answer "Uy, ito ayos lang/Ito, okay lang" (Hey, I'm doing good) Sometimes we ask "Anong bago? (sa araw mo/sa iyo)" which means "What's new?/What's up?/How're you doing?" You can answer the same as above. But the most ...
